The national fashion establishment has bestowed its kudos on a longtime Bergen fashion establishment.

HAMRAH'S OF CRESSKILL has been named a Style Leader by Harper's Bazaar in the magazine's list of the 100 best specialty stores in the country. The upscale women's apparel shop is one of only two New Jersey stores to be selected for the roster, which was assembled by Harper's editors and top industry leaders.

Hamrah's co-owner Lilli Hamrah is understandably thrilled with the recognition. "This is an acknowledgment of our passion for outfitting women with only the finest garments and accessories from the most talented designers," she said recently. The store, which is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year; was founded in downtown Cresskill by Lilli's mother as a reasonably priced place to dress the whole family. Over time, the business moved toward its current incarnation as higher-end retail, and into its current more spacious location a few blocks away, at 2 Piermont Road.
