Adventures on the Trapeze

via nbcсандiego.com

Props to @NBCPhotog for this great news story he put together about our fun Friday night adventure held at Circus Fund, a local San Diego trapeze school.

I'd never been on a trapeze and it's been years since I've swung from the monkey bars. But I gotta tell ya - the rush was incredible! I highly recommend trapeze as a sport - or even just a fun evening out with a date or your friends. As long as you listen to the commands and do things exactly when the instructors tell you to (no fear!!) you should be set.

The fun and funky tights are courtesy of East Coast-based Bskinz... we wore them with pride and our trapeze instructors were pretty envious.

Best part of the night? Spending time with a number of wonderful, crazy, adorable bloggers and friends from the Twitterverse including @EverydayMama, @GingerAnderson, @Hip_MOM, @jenboydSD, @RockOnMommies, @SugarJones, @mrsnatalie, @CandiceStone, @CathyNguyen and some new friends I got to meet for the first time. Also @muffintinmom, @californiakara, @hello_ko, @carbonita came by as well to cheer us on.

Natalie pens The Bobby Pin, one of my favorite blogs, and she wore a cute post about the evening with lots of photos here.

Until our next adventure... HUP!

Disclosure: I paid a group rate for the lesson and Bskinz shipped me a box of pants to share with each of the participants. Neither company asked me to post or tweet about the experience. The opinions expressed in this post and on this blog are my own and my disclosure policy is here.

HOT PANTS? I'd say so... Shout out to @Bskinz

Tomorrow night, I'll be flying high with some of my favorite San Diego blogger folks... we'll be taking TRAPEZE classes at the Del Mar Fairgrounds. Weeee!! I've heard amazing things about Circus Fund trapeze classes so I called Lisa and set up a special class. Our friend Spencer, aka @NBCPhotog decided to come & film it for potentially a news story (this may be a decision I will regret later... hmm, seems like that is par for the course when I hang out with these fun ladies.)

So that brings me to the pants... Bskinz decided we needed to fly in style so they send me a huge box of their favorite patterns. Hmm, are zebra stripes slimming? We will find out tomorrow night!
